Cianbro Team Members Deserve Go Home At The End of The Day in Better Condition Than They Arrived In. It Is Our Moral Obligation To Each Other.

Our Journey Beyond Zero

If we do our job as leaders (leadership is not a position, it is a behavior) all in, all day, every day, we will educate and influence each other in terms of our health, safety, and even the environment so that we go home in better condition than we arrived at work in.

- Isn't this what our loved ones at home deserve?
- Isn't this what our Team Members deserve?

The journey beyond zero is an emotionally based program that strives to hard wire the heart to the mind and make safety personal. It is all about caring.

The program takes a look at our own behaviors and recognizes there is more in our backpacks than just work. The justification of having each other's backs become very apparent in short order during this intense safety/leadership training.

Sustainability

Cianbro's Sr. Management is committed to ensuring a safe work environment. Cianbro developed in-house an I-Phone App that allows for daily reporting of any incident at home or at work to be reported by 10AM EST that allows safety to quickly compile company wide data and feed it back to the managers by 2PM EST. This quick turnaround is to educate the company on the events at work or home so others can learn and be kept safe.

CAPP – Cianbro Accident Prevention Process

A behavioral based safety program driven by the team members to identify at risk behavior and coach each other on a safer approach to the work. Data is collected and compiled so that trends are identified and attention given companywide to those greatest areas of exposure.

Dedicated to an Injury-Free Workplace
